

Ofelia Amador is a Small Business Banker with 20 years of banking experience who is passionate about delivering world class business advice and positively impacting the financial lives of her clients. She builds meaningful relationships with individuals, business owners within the domestic and international markets.

Ofelia is committed to taking the time to understand what makes each business unique and delivering financial solutions that can help business owners grow, maximize cash flow, finance, commercial real estate, business expenses and acquisitions and plan for the future.

Prior to her current role, Ofelia was a Business Banker with Wells Fargo. She joined Bank of America in 2011.

Ofelia received a degree on Business Administration and Economics from the University of Applied Sciences in Germany.

She is originally from Colombia and has lived in Charlotte since 1996 with her husband and son. She enjoys volunteering in nursing homes, orphanages, charter schools, traveling and outdoor activities.

Ofelia is a member of the Latin American Chamber, German Chamber, and founder of the Hispanic Professional Group. She is fluent in English, German and Spanish.